

LIVERPOOL WILDERNESS MEDICINE SOCIETY
NEEDS

ASSESSORS FOR WILD TRIALS 2020

APRIL 3-5TH 2020 • LOCATION: ALTCAR TRAINING CAMP

PLEASE EMAIL
LIVERPOOLWILDERNESS@GMAIL.COM

PREPARE TO BE UNPREPARED.

Be a part of a 2 day sell-out national simulation competition encompassing PHEM and EM, to expedition medicine and major incident management. Clinicians with a special interest in the above specialities required to ensure our simulations are as high fidelity and evidence-based as possible. 10 hours of CPD accredited by RSCeD!

What is Wild Trials?

Wild Trials is an annual national event where University Wilderness Medicine Societies compete in a range of pre-hospital scenarios conducted in the austere or non-permissive environment.

Where and When?

Liverpool University Wilderness Medical Society will be hosting this year's trials at Aticar Ranges, Merseyside over the weekend 3rd to 5th April 2020. Over 120 student delegates are expected to enter with teams of four rotating through two days of tasking activity.

Where you can help!

The event committee organisers are looking for support in the following areas:

We need experienced instructor/assessors to help us assess across the 2 day event, particularly those with logistical and JESIP protocol expertise.

Re-imagined and on a much larger scale than ever before, we are inviting student teams to become completely immersed while on "deployment" to "Merzonia", a country where nothing is what it seems. Across the 2 day event, your help is needed to help assess the teams as they combat every medical and logistical problem thrown their way whilst helping the people of Merzonia.

Equipment Needed – med kits (level D/E PHEM), casualty simulation and a "sim man" with programmable vitals plus an operator

What's in it for you?

In exchange for your time we'd love to thank you with:

- CPD certificates
- Food and refreshments will be provided.
- And hopefully a weekend you'll never forget!

All scenarios will be written by Liverpool Wilderness Medicine with any input you'd be willing to add and there may even be the opportunity to help demonstrate an advanced skill and teach our delegates something new!

Important Information: Accommodation is outdoor camping so please bring a tent. If you do not own a tent please contact us and we can try to organise a tent for you. If you'd prefer to arrange your own accommodation locally and travel to the site that can be discussed.

If you are able to assist in any way please contact the below:

Rachel Kiernan O'Donnell – LWMS committee member liverpoolwilderness@gmail.com

Nigel Hinson – nigel.hinson@rsced.net

Further information can be viewed at:

<https://www.facebook.com/liverpoolwildernessmedicine/>

<https://www.facebook.com/events/2258327577791200/>